

QUIVERTREE
PUBLICATIONS

'an informative herbal manual giving you all the essential information together with whacky poetry, wonderfully funny graphics and entertaining anecdotes. If you want to grow herbs and chortle whilst doing it, this book is for you'

- SA GARDENING

'Wild Iris will capture your attention and you will find yourself engrossed until you have read it from cover to cover. A 'must have' book.'

- THE CAPE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

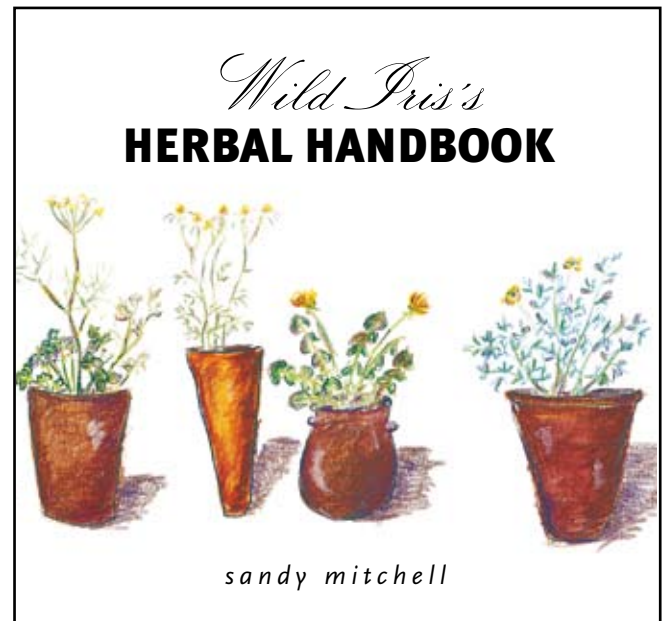

This book is not just the trials the gardener Iris has with the snails, a love sick neighbour and a mutinous daughter, it is also a witty introduction to growing and using herbs for the modern gardener.

'Wild Iris Herbal' will take you through the battles of plant compatibility, to the dousing of one's own maladies. You will encounter universal tips for using herbs, from the traditional to plants you would never have thought to label 'herb'. A truly amusing as well as informative adventure into herbs.

SANDY MITCHELL

Sandy Mitchell lives in a cape town garden of isis's both wild and tame, jostling for space amongst a great variety of herbs, also both wild and tame. These she happily shares with her largest garden pests, Oliver (assistant flower plucker and friend to all creepy crawlies), Hannah (soup maker and aromatics specialist), Gabriel (lethal balls specialists) and her companion plant, Adrian (devotee of isis's).

As owner of "Wild Iris Nursery" Sandy received inspiration for writing through her relationships with her customers, who included both the clueless and clued-up species. Sandy now divides her time between children, gardening, writing and website design.
