

from the authors
of bestselling
Weaning Sense

allergy sense

for families: a practical guide

MEG FAURE, DR SARAH KARABUS
& KATH MEGAW

A passionate team: an allergy specialist, a paediatric dietician, and an occupational therapist collaborate in developing a practical way to guide you, sorting the noise from the science and helping your family thrive.

It includes over 70 delicious foolproof recipes. Using simple and inspiring ingredient combinations with minimal equipment and quick preparation times.

PRICE R395
ISBN 978-1-928429-18-0
FORMAT 170MM X 230MM.
EXTENT SOFT COVER
264PP

'The focus of this book is not how to limit your life due to a food allergy, rather it will help you learn how to live your life to the full. An excellent guide, immensely beneficial for all those living with food allergies.'

PROF MICHAEL LEVIN

HEAD OF DIVISION PAEDIATRIC ALLERGOLOGY
RED CROSS CHILDRENS HOSPITAL

A formidable team: Dr Sarah Karabus a paediatric allergologists, with a post as consultant lecturer at the Red Cross Hospital, has been published in several medical journals and frequently speaks at national and international conferences. Kath Megaw holds four medical qualifications, including a paediatric dietetic qualification from the prestigious Johns Hopkins University in the USA. This her fifth book. Meg Faure is an occupational therapist specialising in fussy eating and infant care and is passionate in assisting parents to nurture their babies, Meg runs a clinical practice in Cape Town, writes for various media platforms, is an international speaker and this is her seventh book.

